JACK ANDERSON'S WASHINGTON LETTER
July 1986, Volume III, No. 14

RUMORS: TRUE OR FALSE?

For all the official tut-tutting about Jonathan Pollard, the U.S. Navy man caught spying for Israel, the United States does plenty of spying on the Israelis. TRUE.

American intelligence agencies are most interested in anything that would tip them off to Israel's strategic plans regarding its Arab neighbors, Africa and Latin America. Of particular interest, understandably, is the progress of Israel's nuclear weapons program. The reactors in Dimona have been a constant target of U.S. intelligence.
